Please ensure that the Nomination paperwork (including Stud fee payment) has been completed with the stallion owner/agent well before the semen request, as we are unable to send out any semen without prior authorisation (in writing) from the stallion owner/agent. The semen collection, postage costs and transport costs (if applicable) must be paid in full (by the mare owner) to Tomlinson Equine Ltd prior to the semen being sent out.

Please inform us when your mare is given a PG injection or starts in season, so we can be prepared for the semen collection – this is especially important with non-resident stallions. Please confirm the semen order before 9am the day the semen collection is required. The cheapest option for semen delivery is next day delivery, in which case we would need to know before 9am the day before semen is required. Same day delivery options are possible, but significantly more expensive. If semen is required at the weekend, we need to know before 9am on the Friday prior. A stallion’s semen collection time is organised according to the day’s schedule, the number of export & domestic semen collections needed, as well as the stallion’s schedule. The length of time it takes to obtain an ejaculate from a stallion varies hugely between stallions. We aim for semen to be processed & ready for postage/same day pick up by 4pm on the day of semen collection. Requests for semen to be ready earlier than this will be considered but cannot be guaranteed. If you are picking up the semen, it is best to ring the office prior to setting off in case the semen sample has not yet been obtained. Please note that it is not always possible to obtain a semen sample even if you have ordered on time due to factors (often stallion related) outside of our control. Where possible we can provide you with a frozen semen alternative in these instances.
